1. BILL SUMMARY

Legislation Title: A RESOLUTION providing an honorary designation of Union St between 21st and 22nd Streets as “D’Vonne Pickett Jr. Way.”

Summary and Background of the Legislation:

The City Council, with the Mayor’s concurrence, would resolve for the Seattle Department of Transportation to manufacture, install, and maintain honorary signs on the 2100 block of E Union St reflecting an honorary designation of “D’Vonne Pickett Jr. Way.” D’Vonne Pickett Jr., with his wife, KeAnna, first opened The Postman in the Central District in 2018 and they had just moved the business to a new storefront on Martin Luther King Jr Way and E Union St when D’Vonne was tragically killed on the evening of October 19, 2022. D’Vonne was only 31 and left behind 3 children he loved dearly, as well as extended family in Seattle and beyond. D’Vonne was also a respected community leader and inspiration to the children he coached on the Central District Panthers football team. In addition to youth coaching, D’Vonne was a noted athlete himself, playing on championship basketball and football teams at Rainier Beach High School. He also played basketball at Seattle University and professionally in Canada. As Mayor Harrell noted at a November memorial service at Climate Pledge Arena last November, “D’Vonne was known for his kindness, determination, and passion for uplifting the Seattle community and making a positive impact in the Central District with his business, The Postman. Along with his family-run business, he was also a youth sports coach, giving his time and talent to mentoring our young people and shaping the next generation of leaders in this city.”
