QUALIFICATIONS

Community development: I am a liaison between Community Lunch and the Capitol Hill neighborhood, working to form collaborations with other businesses and community events. As the Bainbridge Island Land Trust's Stewardship Coordinator, I was a known face in the community, regularly attending multi-stakeholder meetings, participating in outreach workshops, and hosting weekend weed pulls.

Planning: At the Bainbridge Island Land Trust I primarily worked on conservation easements to secure lasting open space areas, as well as collaborated with the City of Bainbridge Island and the Parks department to partner on public works projects.

Meeting facilitation: I help to facilitate and write meeting summaries for monthly Stewardship Committee meetings, as well as neighborhood planning meetings. While working for literary magazines, I conducted and transcribed interviews and community profiles.

Communication: My academics emphasized the craft of writing and I have applied this professionally, publishing the feature story Wheels Up In Rural Oregon in the Bear Deluxe Magazine, as well as contributing articles to the Washington Service Corps newsletter. I currently write grants for Community Lunch. I wrote meeting summaries for monthly Stewardship Committee meetings, as well as neighborhood planning meetings. I have conducted and transcribed interviews and community profiles.

EDUCATION

B.A. in Environmental Humanities, 2013: Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash.

Participated in Whitman's Semester in the West program, fall 2012.

International Baccalaureate diploma, 2009: Cleveland High School, Portland, Ore.
