Background: Rosy Allen is currently a 10th grader at Roosevelt High School. Rosy was born in Guatemala and came to the United States as an infant. She enjoys living in the wonderful city of Seattle but is disappointed in the racial injustices seen in both her school and in Seattle. She is passionate about making Seattle more inclusive. As a musician and musical theater performer, she identifies the arts as a way to convene, strengthen and elevate the people of Seattle. Rosy hopes to increase awareness about the impact of inequity on students. The Seattle Youth Commission is a place for her to contribute to discussions on City policy.

Q5 Why do you want to become a member of the Seattle Youth Commission?

I was born in Guatemala and came to the US as an infant. I've been privileged to live in this wonderful city, but I also see racial discrimination and injustice in my school and my city. I would like to add my voice to the conversation how we make our city more inclusive and use all our talents to lift up everyone in Seattle.

Q6 What are the issues in your community that you are passionate about and why?

I have been a musician and a performer in musical theater. I believe the arts can bring us all together and create a better sense of community. I've also been a CIT in a community center day camp and I love working with younger children.

Seattle Youth Commission

Q7 What do you hope to gain from this experience?

I would like to learn from others in this council and also learn how better to share what I think when the conversation is going.

Q8 What do you think makes your perspective unique to others?

I am a Latina living in a white-majority city and studying in a white-majority school. I know people sometimes judge my friends and me by the color of our skin, but I know we all have the same hopes and fears inside. I work hard in school and treasure the love and support of my family.
