

CITY OF SEATTLE

RESOLUTION 32004

1
4 A RESOLUTION prioritizing people over the profits of pharmaceutical companies; supporting 5 the production of COVID-19 vaccine around the world; urging President Biden to end 6 U.S. opposition to the Waiver from Certain Provisions of the Trade-Related Aspects of 7 Intellectual Property Rights (TRIPS) Agreement for the Prevention, Containment and 8 Treatment of COVID-19 at the World Trade Organization (WTO).
9

10 WHEREAS, COVID-19 is a global pandemic, spreading internationally; and

11 WHEREAS, rapid and widespread dissemination of vaccinations in all countries is at the center 12 of the strategy by public health professionals to stop the spread of COVID-19 through the 13 development of herd immunity; and

14 WHEREAS, new COVID-19 variants continue to develop throughout the world, and the sooner
15 vaccines are available in all countries, the greater the likelihood of success in the battle
16 against COVID-19; and

17 WHEREAS, vaccinations are critical to reopening and economic recovery in both developed 18 countries and the Global South; and

19 WHEREAS, one in five of Seattle’s population is born in another county and they, and many more 20 Seattle residents have family abroad, some living in countries without adequate access to vaccine;
21 and

22 WHEREAS, on April 9, 2021, CNBC quoted World Health Organization (WHO) Director-23 General Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus regarding vaccine doses that “over 87% have 24 gone to high-income or upper- and middle-income countries, while low-income countries
25 have received just 0.2%,” and that “[o]n average, 1 in 4 people in high-income countries

1 have received a coronavirus vaccine, compared with just 1 in more than 500 in low-
2 income countries, according to Tedros”; and

3 WHEREAS, on February 17, 2021, The Wall Street Journal reported, “The disparity could also 4 slow the global economic recovery more broadly and prolong the pandemic, by creating 5 pockets of unchecked infection that could become breeding grounds for mutations of the 6 virus,” and that “[a] recent study by the U.S.-based National Bureau for Economic 7 Research concluded that a failure to inoculate all countries equitably could wind up 8 costing advanced economies up to $2.6 trillion—far more than the cost of supplying 9 global vaccine coverage”; and

10 WHEREAS, the World Trade Organization (WTO) Agreement on Trade-Related Aspects of 11 Intellectual Property Rights (“TRIPS Agreement”) enforces intellectual property (IP)
12 rights internationally, including prohibiting the production of COVID-19 vaccine doses 13 in many low-income countries; and

14 WHEREAS, the WTO has been widely criticized for prioritizing the profits of multinational 15 corporations over the needs of regular, working-class people around the world, prompting 16 the historic protest in Seattle in 1999 at the WTO Ministerial Conference; and

17 WHEREAS, global trade laws under capitalism maximize profits for the elite in all countries, at 18 the expense of all working people around the world and especially in the Global South; 19 and

20 WHEREAS, on March 15, 2021, Pharmaceutical Technology reported that WTO representatives
21 from South Africa and India “asked the WTO to allow member countries to waive 22 intellectual property (IP) rights, including patents, related to Covid-19 vaccines and other 23 technologies for the duration of the pandemic”; and

1 WHEREAS, the March 15 Pharmaceutical Technology article further reported that “the US, the 2 UK and the European Union (EU), among other richer countries, have been vocal 3 opponents of the IP waiver proposal” in addition to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and 4 the International Federation of Pharmaceutical Manufacturers and Associations (IFPMA);

6 WHEREAS, on March 10, 2021, Reuters reported, “Richer members of the World Trade 7 Organization (WTO) blocked a push by over 80 developing countries on Wednesday to 8 waive patent rights in an effort to boost production of COVID-19 vaccines for poor 9 nations”; and

10 WHEREAS, on February 26, 2021, a letter to President Biden signed by over 400 community
11 organizations and labor unions (Attachment A to this resolution) stated that “we urge 12 your administration to lift the U.S. blockage of the ‘Waiver from Certain Provisions of 13 the TRIPS Agreement for the Prevention, Containment and Treatment of COVID-19’”;

15 WHEREAS, the letter further entreats President Biden, “with so many of the world’s nations 16 supporting this emergency waiver already, you can also help restore America’s moral and 17 public health leadership in the world by siding with the majority to prioritize saving lives
18 over protecting pharmaceutical corporation monopolies and profits. This new position
19 would be widely noted, given U.S. officials’ shameful attack on the waiver at a January 20 WTO meeting”; and

21 WHEREAS, COVID-19 is a life-threatening pandemic, and the Seattle City Council does not 22 agree with the argument made by large pharmaceutical companies in a December 8,

1 2020, IFPMA press release that “IP enables research and development and ensures that 2 the next generation of inventors and investors will remain engaged”; and

3 WHEREAS, on November 18, 2020, Scientific American reported, “Much of the pioneering 4 work on mRNA vaccines was done with government money, though drugmakers could 5 walk away with big profits,” and that “[t]he vaccines made by Pfizer and Moderna, which 6 are likely to be the first to win FDA approval, in particular rely heavily on two 7 fundamental discoveries that emerged from federally funded research: the viral protein
8 designed by Graham and his colleagues, and the concept of RNA modification, first 9 developed by Drew Weissman and Katalin Karikó at the University of Pennsylvania”; 10 and

11 WHEREAS, on April 8, 2021, The New York Times reported about Dr. Katalin Karikó, 12 explaining that she is “one of the heroes of Covid-19 vaccine development. Her work,
13 with her close collaborator, Dr. Drew Weissman of the University of Pennsylvania, laid 14 the foundation for the stunningly successful vaccines made by Pfizer-BioNTech and 15 Moderna,” and that “[s]he never made more than $60,000 a year”; and

16 WHEREAS, the Seattle City Council recognizes that big pharmaceutical companies profiting off 17 human misery is nothing new, and that there is widespread outrage at artificially high 18 prices for life-saving insulin, EpiPens, and drugs to treat cystic fibrosis and tuberculosis, 19 and at patent monopolies on essential AIDS medications that made them inaccessible and 20 unaffordable in the Global South for a decade; NOW, THEREFORE,

21 BE IT RESOLVED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SEATTLE THAT:

22 Section 1. The Seattle City Council joins the more than 400 community organizations, 23 labor unions, faith groups, and more in urging the Biden Administration to end the US

1 opposition to the Waiver from Certain Provisions of the Trade-Related Aspects of Intellectual 2 Property Rights Agreement for the Prevention, Containment and Treatment of COVID-19 at the 3 World Trade Organization (WTO). The Seattle City Council urges the Biden Administration to 4 immediately share publicly all research, technology, techniques, and other information relevant
5 to the production of COVID-19 vaccines (such as mRNA research) that is owned or co-owned 6 by the U.S. The Seattle City Council shall sign onto the open letter to President Biden titled, “To 7 Help End the Pandemic as Quickly as Possible and Restore U.S. International Cooperation,
8 Please End Trump’s Blockade of the COVID-19 Emergency Waiver of WTO Rules So More 9 Vaccines and Treatment Can Be Produced,” substantially as shown in Attachment A to this 10 resolution.

11 Section 2. The Seattle City Council requests that the Office of Intergovernmental 12 Relations communicate the content of this resolution to the Executive Office of the President and 13 to Seattle’s Congressional Delegation in Washington, D.C.

The Honorable Joe Biden

To Help End the Pandemic as Quickly as Possible and Restore U.S. International Cooperation, Please End Trump's Blockade of the COVID-19 Emergency Waiver of WTO Rules So More Vaccines and Treatment Can Be Produced

Dear President Biden,

Congratulations on becoming President. We are encouraged by the administration's steadfast efforts to eradicate COVID-19 and in so doing save countless lives and livelihoods. Many Americans are hopeful that your administration will improve the pace of COVID-19 vaccine production and deployment in the United States. But, that alone will not hasten the end of the global pandemic.

We the undersigned organizations respectfully urge you to reverse a dangerous and self-defeating position taken by President Trump that threatens the prospects of ending the COVID-19 disaster. Namely, we urge your administration to lift the U.S. blockage of the "Waiver from Certain Provisions of the TRIPS Agreement for the Prevention, Containment and Treatment of COVID-19" supported by more than 100 nations at the World Trade Organization (WTO).

With global supply limited, many people in low- and middle-income countries around the globe will not have vaccine access until at least 2022, according to the British Medical Journal. Most of the world's poorest countries will have to wait until 2024 for mass immunization if current trends continue, reports the Economist Intelligence Unit. We are sure you agree this is unacceptable.

Such global inequity is not only a catastrophic moral failure that will lead to needless suffering and loss of life. Ongoing outbreaks anywhere mean greater risk of new variants developing against which vaccines are not effective and/or that can evade the antibodies developed by survivors. There simply is no way to defeat the pandemic in the United States without bold action worldwide.

The science is clear: People in developing countries need urgent access to vaccines and treatments to achieve herd immunity, just as people in the United States do. Without global action, the health crisis and resulting economic crisis here and worldwide will continue. A new International Chamber of Commerce report concluded that the current best-case scenario of wealthy nations being fully vaccinated by the middle of 2021 and poor countries largely shut out could cause economic losses exceeding $9 trillion. Nearly half of those costs would be absorbed by wealthy countries like the United States, Canada and Britain.

The WTO Agreement on Trade-Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights (TRIPS) requires WTO signatory countries to provide lengthy monopoly protections for medicines, tests and the technologies used to produce them. After a global campaign by public health and development groups, in 2001 the WTO issued a binding declaration about better balancing TRIPS intellectual property protections and public health needs. A temporary emergency COVID-19 waiver is in line with the WTO members' agreement that intellectual property rules cannot create barriers to health treatments that unnecessarily cost human lives and undermine the global economy.

Notably, governments, particularly the United States, provided billions in upfront payments, clinical trial support, and guaranteed purchase, so pharmaceutical firms did not bear risk. Many precursor technologies used in the new vaccines resulted from long-term U.S. government efforts, in collaboration with scientists in the United States and around the world. Yet now the corporations will control where and how much vaccine is made. Even as some firms holding vaccine monopolies have contracted others to manufacture, there is insufficient supply. Thus, while U.S. participation in programs like COVAX is important, unless production is quickly ramped up around the world to meet global demand, there simply will not be enough supply for COVAX to provide countries in need. The corporate monopoly rights and resulting supply shortages also threaten access for billions of people in the developing world, to the COVID-19 treatments that are bringing down mortality rates here. The TRIPS rules limit government options to gain access to vital COVID treatments at an affordable price.

Today, the many nations that cannot obtain the COVID-19 vaccines and treatments needed to cover their populations must attempt to negotiate the slow "product by product" and "country by country" compulsory license approach allowed under TRIPS. (And attempts to exercise these rights has led to fierce U.S. opposition in recent years, evidenced in the U.S. government's Special 301 Report.) In contrast, the TRIPS waiver would remove a key obstacle to governments and manufacturers worldwide accessing the technology needed to invest in making COVID vaccines and treatments as rapidly as possible, in as many places as possible, for the billions who still need them.

It is rare that one policy change can so significantly impact a global health effort that could save millions of lives. Supporting this waiver is the right thing to do in and of itself. But doing so would be not only altruistic. Ending the COVID-19 pandemic as quickly as possible worldwide is also necessary to reboot the global economy on which so much of the U.S. economy relies.

And, with so many of the world's nations supporting this emergency waiver already, you can also help restore America's moral and public health leadership in the world by siding with the majority to prioritize saving lives over protecting pharmaceutical corporation monopolies and profits. This new position would be widely noted, given U.S. officials' shameful attack on the waiver at a January WTO meeting.

We welcomed your promise "absolutely positively" to commit to sharing technology and access to any COVID-19 vaccine developed in the US, during an interview with Ady Barkan. At the time you said, "It's the only humane thing in the world to do. It's not only a good thing to do, it's overwhelmingly in our interest to do it as well." We are asking you to deliver on that promise.

Thus, we respectfully request that you break with the unconscionable policies Trump supported and, before the next WTO General Council meeting March 1-2, announce that the United States will no longer oppose the temporary, emergency COVID-19 WTO waiver of certain TRIPS provisions. We also request that your administration inform our trade partners that the United States will apply the same temporary, emergency waiver of the same intellectual property rules included in U.S. bilateral and regional trade agreements for COVID-19 vaccines, testing and treatments.

Sincerely,
