Our Guiding Framework

Our guiding principle: An inclusive economy is a competitive, prosperous economy.

Our purpose: Shape an economically prosperous, diverse, just, and resilient city.

Striking a balance:

- Supporting our local economy
- Competing in the global economy

The Role of OED

Respond and Implement

Be highly responsive to businesses that need help navigating city resources and requirements, and in some cases deliver services directly to businesses

Organize and Build

Invest more in knitting together systems that can provide coordinated, comprehensive supports to both businesses and workers

Envision and Transform

Articulate a clear and compelling vision for the transformation of Seattle's economy, and periodically lead transformative cross-sector "moonshots" that require the City's unique capabilities and influence

Support

Actively support the leadership of other departments or external partners to advance community-informed economic development priorities

Our 2024 Workplan

Top Priorities:

- Develop a positive, high-performing, welcoming team culture
- Build accountability system for Future of Seattle Economy agenda
- Strategy setting on workforce development, small business division, and special events
- Revitalize Downtown through DAP

Moonshots:

- Develop South Downtown Vision, in collaboration with OPCD
- OED ground floor space
- Establish a UW AI Center Downtown
- Consolidate functions from other departments that are duplicative

Strategies:

- Bring home the state and federal bacon
- Scale up what's working; get rid of, reduce, or rework what's not
- Tell our story!
- Develop performance management and professional development systems

Working Together

- Individual meetings to get to know OED and what we are doing in your district
- How you can engage with our work

Seattle Ethics and Elections Commission (SEEC) Overview

Ethics and Elections Commission: An introduction

Executive Director: Wayne Barnett

History

- Fair Campaign Political Practices Commission established in September 1971
- Board of Ethics established in November 1971
- Twenty years later, in November 1991, the two are combined and christened the Ethics and Elections Commission

What We Do: The Big Picture

Exist to foster public confidence in government

“The City finds that the proper operation of democratic representative government requires that public officers and employees be independent, impartial, and responsible to the people; that government decisions and policy be made in the proper channels of the governmental structure; that public office not be used for personal gain; and that the public have confidence in the integrity of its government.” SMC 4.16.020.A

Who Is the Commission?

- Seven members
- Three appointed by Mayor, three appointed by Council, one by the Commission
- All confirmed by the Council
- None can be active politically in the City while serving on the Commission

What We Do: The Details

- Administer and enforce the Ethics Code
- Administer and enforce the Elections Code
- Administer the Whistleblower Protection Code
- Administer and enforce the Lobbying Code (adopted in 2008)
- Together with Seattle Channel and King County Elections, produce the Video Voters' Guide
- Administer the City's Democracy Voucher Program
 - Public financing program established by voters in 2015
 - Four election cycles to date

How We Do It

- 1 employee dedicated to Elections Code
- 1 employee (80% time) dedicated to Ethics Code
- 1 employee devoted to Lobbying Code
- 1 employee providing administrative support
- 2 employees (1.6 FTEs) providing dedicated IT support, focused on making campaign contribution and spending data easily available to the public
- 3 employees dedicated to the Democracy Voucher Program
- Overseen by Executive Director
- Annual general fund budget approximately $1.3 million
- Annual Democracy Voucher Program budget $3 million
