A special thanks to the City of Seattle State Legislative Delegation, City officials, and City staff

The Office of Intergovernmental Relations (OIR) thanks the Seattle legislative delegation for the countless hours they spent representing the interests of Seattle residents during this virtual legislative session. We would also like to acknowledge all the work of the Mayor, Council, and their staff, and thank them for their direct engagement and support of our City's agenda and priorities this year.

Finally, we would like to extend a special thanks to all the department staff who assisted with the bill review process. Over two thousand bills were introduced this biennium, and we would not have been able to respond to the many far-ranging impacts to the City without all their hard work and expertise.

2022 Session Overview

The Washington State Legislature convened for a 60-day legislative session on Monday, January 10. Once again, legislative business was conducted almost entirely virtually this year, with only a small number of legislators in Olympia throughout the session. Committee hearings, stakeholder meetings, and other legislative business was all conducted remotely.

On the heels of historic victories last year in progressive revenue, housing and homelessness, police reform, and climate justice, the legislature focused on a few key policy areas this year: public safety and gun responsibility, investments in transportation infrastructure, and bolstering housing and human service programs through another robust budget cycle. Many bills failed to advance this year due to the compressed timeline of the short legislative session.

This report provides an overview of significant budgetary and policy decisions made by the legislature during the 2022 legislative session.

Tier 2 building owners must submit compliance reports to Commerce by July 1, 2027, and every five years thereafter. Reports must include energy management plans, operations and maintenance plans, and energy use analysis.

Commerce must provide a support program to building owners including certain elements such as outreach and informational materials. - Requires Commerce to establish a rapid permanent supportive housing acquisition and development program to issue financial assistance to certain local government and nonprofit entities for acquiring and developing permanent supportive housing units.

REET Affordable Housing HB 1643 (Hackney) – Exempts from real estate excise tax the sale or transfer of real property to a nonprofit, cooperative association, housing authority, public corporation, county, or municipal corporation if the property is used for housing for low-income persons.

The adoption of ordinances, development regulations and amendments to such regulations, and other nonproject actions taken by a fully planning city that increase housing capacity and affordability and mitigates displacement as required under the mandatory housing element of the city's comprehensive plan, and that apply outside of critical areas, are exempt from administrative and judicial appeal under SEPA unless the adoption of such ordinances, development regulations, or other nonproject actions has a probable significant adverse impact on fish habitat.
