Background: Marc grew up in Chicago and London, UK before moving back to the states to attend college in Indiana. After graduating with a bachelor’s in computer science and a minor in political science, he decided to move to Seattle, having fallen for the gorgeous summers and familiar rainy seasons. Since his arrival, he has been continually fascinated by Seattle’s storied history, which lives on through its citizens and the built environment we all use daily. As someone who recently moved to the city, He recognizes the impact recent growth is having on historic neighborhoods and local communities. He wants to help preserve what makes Seattle special and ensure its citizens—longtime residents and newcomers alike—are given a chance to protect the irreplaceable. As a commissioner, Marc will strive to make citizens’ voices heard and increase the involvement of everyday citizens in the landmark preservation process.
