Kirsten Wild is a Principal at Weinstein A+U with a well-established track record of successful civic projects as well as significant expertise in the development and implementation of sustainable design solutions. She served as LEED project team administrator for Fire Station 6, which was awarded a LEED Gold rating, and she led the design of Fire Station 22 which received a LEED Platinum rating. She also has a background in historic preservation and adaptive reuse and has been an important team member on several of the office's adaptive reuse projects, including the Ainsworth & Dunn project.

Most recently, Kirsten has been serving as Principal-in-Charge on the firm's efforts to assist local congregations with the design of their new urban spaces, bringing her undergraduate degree in religion full circle.

Kirsten has been with Weinstein A+U since 2003.
