

Amendment 7 Version 2 to CB 120981 DEEL Families, Education, Preschool, and Promise Levy
ORD

Sponsor: Councilmember Rinck

Allow for Additional Investments in Restorative Practices

Effect: This amendment would add $1,000,000 annually, or $6 million total, to the expected revenues generated by the Families, Education, Preschool, and Promise (FEPP) Levy proposition submitted to voters upon passage of Council Bill 120981. This additional revenue would allow for further investments to support restorative practices.

Restorative practices promote conflict resolution, harm repair, and healing with the intention of reducing disciplinary incidents and creating a safer and more supportive school environment for students. Currently this programming is funded through the 2025-2026 school year using $800,000 of Families and Education Levy fund reserves. Restorative practices are also currently supported at five schools from FEPP Levy school-based investments, which are determined by individual levy-funded schools.

The estimated additional tax rate needed to allow for this additional investment would be $.003, or two-tenths of a cent, per $1,000 of assessed value, with an estimated average additional tax burden of $3.13 per year to a median-value property.

To allow for the additional expected revenue to be reflected in the Council Bill and the proposed ballot measure, this amendment adds one cent to the maximum allowable tax rate proposed, from $0.71 per $1,000 of assessed value in the first year, to $0.72. The final version of the bill for Full Council consideration will reconcile all proposed changes to the tax rate based on the estimated additional revenue needed to incorporate all amendments.

This amendment would also add “restorative practices” to the list of educational support services that may be supported by the Families, Education, Preschool, and Promise (FEPP) Levy, under the “K-12 health and safety” category.

The list of educational support services is a non-exhaustive list intended to illustrate the types of investments that could be supported by the FEPP Levy. It does not bind the Council to funding those services. However, if this amendment passes and additional revenue is raised, Council’s intent would be to use the amended additional revenue, averaging $1,000,000 per year, towards supporting restorative practices.

If the proposition is approved by voters, funding for specific items would be appropriated by Council through the adoption of an Implementation and Evaluation Plan, and during Council budget deliberations.

Pursuant to RCW 84.55.050(4), the maximum regular property taxes that may be levied in 2031 for collection in 2032 and in later years shall be computed as if the levy lid in RCW 84.55.010 had not been lifted under this ordinance.
