

Kenmore Reservoir Site: Property Disposition

City Council
Seattle Public Utilities and Neighborhoods
Committee
September 2015

Overview

- SPU Reservoir Site Acquisitions
- Kenmore Reservoir Site Location
- History
- Decision to surplus and sell property
- Today's Legislation

SPU Reservoir Site Acquisitions

Lake Forest Park Reservoir

Acquired 1955

Active Reservoir

Hamlin Reservoir Site

Acquired 1963, 1965, 1973

Sold 1973, 1984, 1992, 2007

Kenmore Reservoir Site

Acquired 1969, 1972

Not needed for Reservoir

Location

Kenmore Reservoir Site History

- Acquired in 1969 & 1972
- As estimates of local and regional development changed, the planned need for additional water storage declined
- Site declared excess by SPU in 1979
- Excess status confirmed in 2007
- City of Lake Forest Park considered purchase for use as open space (2007-2014)

Kenmore Reservoir Site History

- Seattle FAS Dept. circulated property internally & externally in 2014
- No interest by governmental agencies
- Some interest from private parties, but they were unable to develop funding for open space

Recommendation to Surplus and Sell

- FAS recommendation: Highest and best use is single family residential development
- If surplus authorized by Council, property will be sold in an open and competitive process for fair market value

Today's Legislation

- Authorizes surplus of the Kenmore Reservoir Property
- Authorizes the sale of the property at fair market value in an open and competitive process

Questions?