

Each Downtown Aid Car's Annual Response Total Far Exceeds SFD's Standard of Reasonable Workload

Total Annual Responses Per Aid Car

Notes:

The Washington Surveying and Rating Bureau (WSRB) considers "a reasonable workload for a company is 2,500 alarms per year, above which additional companies are needed."

Aid car A10 began service in 2015, and is stationed closer to cars A5 and A10.

Source: Seattle Fire Department