low-income residents of a mobile home park that is scheduled to close. Central Staff is working to prepare legislation, in consultation with SDCI, for consideration in early 2017 to implement the program. The amount requested would provide resources for households of the University Trailer Park, which is set to close in April 2017.

The green sheet also imposes the following budget proviso:

“Of the appropriation in the 2017 budget for the Seattle Department of Construction and Inspections' Code Compliance BCL, $190,000 is appropriated solely for relocation assistance for low-income residents of mobile home parks and may be spent for no other purpose.”

This green sheet also rescinds green sheet 139-1-A-1 to make a technical correction to the proviso language.
