 CITY CLERK

David E. Allen

Executive Vice President

David E. Allen is Principal and Executive Vice President of McKinstry, a Seattle-based construction, engineering, energy, and facility services firm. McKinstry, with annual revenue in the $600 million range, is the market leader in the Pacific Northwest for design-build mechanical construction, energy services, and facility operation and management.

Throughout his career, David has been responsible for the company's brand development through managing its strategic positioning and overseeing its business development, community relations, and client service activities. David is widely respected for his contributions to creating McKinstry's positioning strategy that has resulted in the firm's national reputation as a leader in integrated delivery of engineered solutions in facility and energy services.

During his 35 years in the design, construction and facility management industry, David has championed countless marketing, client development, and strategic initiatives for his firm, driving its brand value to remarkable heights. In 2009, David played a key role in establishing McKinstry's Innovation Center, a business incubator that brings together like-minded entrepreneurs under one roof to develop revolutionary energy efficiency technologies and services geared toward eliminating waste in the built environment.

Today, David is a well known seminar and workshop presenter in the areas of corporate communications, branding, business development, marketing, client service, workforce development, and project delivery. David has also become a popular keynote speaker and guest lecturer for business, education, and community service organizations.

Mr. Allen serves on the boards of several industry associations, trade groups, community organizations, and business alliances. Currently, David serves on the executive committees of the Washington Clean Technology Alliance and Economic Development Council of Seattle and King County, and is the former board chair of both. He is an executive board member of Seattle Chamber of Commerce, and the Workforce Development Council of King County where he chaired its Green Design/Building Skills panel. He has also served, at the Mayor's behest, on Seattle City Light's Review Panel, a body responsible for developing the utility's strategic plan. David is also on the Board of Trustees for the Rocky Mountain Institute, an environmental think-tank in Boulder, Colorado. In November of 2011, Seattle Magazine named David one of the City's Most Influential People.
