 CITY CLERK

Bob Hale AIA principal

Bob Hale has over 35 years of architectural experience in multi-family new construction and renovations, historic preservation, and adaptive re-use projects. His clients include non-profit organizations, housing authorities, non-profit housing developers, and community organizations. Bob has experience in the management of complex projects. He works with clients from the project's inception through completion. As principal and project manager, Bob works directly with his clients to prepare the building program and development schedule, provide comprehensive feasibility studies for funding applications, and obtain zoning and building permit approvals from government agencies. He assists in the selection of GC/CM contractors as well as in the public bidding process, and prepares detailed cost estimates during the design and production document phases of development. Bob assembles and manages multi-disciplined design teams to address the engineering and design needs of each project.
