

POLICE ACCOUNTABILITY ORDINANCE

BUILDING LASTING,
INDEPENDENT
POLICE REFORM IN SEATTLE

Presented to the
Gender Equity, Safe Communities & New Americans Committee

May 16, 2017 / Brianna Thomas / Office of Councilmember González

Accountability: Update from the Monitor

The Monitor recently released their ninth systemic assessment use of force review. While the Monitor did identify that there remain disparate impacts on the instances of use of force on Communities of Color, the level of force used was statistically equivalent to that used on the white population. Seattle was also found to be in Initial compliance with paragraphs 69-90 of the Consent Decree.

Use of force is down 60%

Officer injuries and crime have not gone up.

It is a small group of officers using force at rates greater than their peers.

The Road Forward: Driving Compliance

Transmittal from Mayor's Office to the Council: 2/1/17

GESCNA Committee Hearings: 9

Public Hearings: 2

Study Missions: NYC, LA, New Orleans

Council Member meetings with CPC: 50+

Final Passage: May 22, 2017

Creating Lasting & Meaningful Change

 Principles Become

 Independent Institutions

1 Community Police Commission

2 Office of Professional Accountability

3 Office of Inspector General

NEW

Ongoing Negotiation and Input from Community Police Commission

Negotiation: Mutual discussion and agreement on the terms of a transaction or agreement

- Drafted, in conjunction with the Mayor's Office, the underlying ordinance
- All OPA Investigators will be civilians
- The Community Police Commission will have 21 Members: 7 appointed by the Mayor, 7 by the Council, and 7 by the CPC themselves
- 25% of Search Committees for the OPA Director and the Inspector General for Public Safety
- The abolition of the Discipline Review Board
- Joint reporting to Council with the OIG
- Maintenance of all recommendations for systemic improvement; classification of progress on these recommendations
- Participation in all Study Mission Trips, and at all GESCNA Committee meetings

Timeline Moving Forward

GESCNA Committee schedule for Police Accountability Ordinance, all in Council chambers and open to the public:

May 18th, 9:00-11:30am

Final Passage at Full Council:

May 22nd, 2:00 PM

THANK YOU

Mayor's
Office

City
Attorney's
Office

Community
Police
Commission

Email brianna.thomas@seattle.gov / lorena.gonzalez@seattle.gov for more information