Budget Action Description:

This budget action would add $550,000 GF to the Department of Education and Early Learning (DEEL) for a restorative justice pilot program at a limited number of Seattle schools.

The funding is intended to support the initial setup and first year of programming of a multi-year pilot program for schools, in partnership with community organizations, to implement restorative justice practices as an alternative to punitive discipline practices. The funding would allow the schools and community partners to provide restorative justice coordinators or teams that would facilitate schoolwide trainings for teachers and students to build and strengthen relationships, address behavioral issues in a culturally responsive and trauma-informed way, and assist with conflict resolution and de-escalation. The Council intends for all Seattle schools and their partners to be eligible to apply for funding, even if they have prior experience with restorative justice programming.

The Council requests that DEEL examine restorative justice programs that may already be operating in Seattle to inform the development of its competitive procurement process for pilot program funding. In recent years, King County's Best Starts for Kids and Public Health - Seattle & King County's Zero Youth Detention have funded restorative justice programs. Additionally, Cleveland High School uses a portion of its City education levy award to fund restorative justice coordinators.
